The Debut match for Horrabridge proved an uphill struggle at first with nerves getting the better of the new side, starting by trailing by 3 sets; only to find their feet taking the next 4 to put Ivybridge on the back-foot. Alan Davis stopped the rot for the Home side as Crispen Jordan had no answer for the left handers deceptive serve which began the collapse of a brilliant debut game. Despite defeat Horrabridge are going to be a side to watch this season, as their combination of different playing styles means one will pick up a set where others will not.
